

Erin M Nierenhausen

Sr. Instructional Designer, Stout Vocational Rehabilitation Institute (SVRI)
Lecturer, University of Wisconsin - Stout
Stout Vocational Rehabilitation Institute
College of Education, Hospitality, Health and Human Sciences

Office: 116 VR Vocational Rehabilitation Building

Phone: 715-232-1685

Email: nierenhausene@uwstout.edu

Brief Biography

I am the Sr. Instructional Designer for the Stout Vocational Rehabilitation Institute (SVRI). I manage the online training function for all training and course delivery SVRI and multiple grant projects; RRTC-EBP VR; PEQA and E3-TC. Additionally, I am a lecturer with the College of Management I teach training and leadership courses online. My professional work experience includes: training and curriculum development, training delivery, training standardization, technical writing, job coaching, leadership development, and lean manufacturing facilitation.

Education

- MS Training and Curriculum Development
University of Wisconsin-Stout
Menomonie, WI, 1999
- BS Technical Writing and Political Science
University of Wisconsin - River Falls
River Falls, WI, 1998

Work Experience

Academic - Post-Secondary

- Stout Vocational Rehabilitation Institute (SVRI)
Sr. Instructional Designer
September 01, 2010 -
- University of Wisconsin - Stout, College of Management
Lecturer
September 01, 2002 -

Industry

- Nestle Nutrition
Training & Development Coordinator
March 2006 - April 2010
- Great Northern Corporation (Kell Container)
Training & Development Coordinator
December 1999 - April 2006

Intellectual Contributions

Journal Article

- Anderson, C. A., Matthews, P., Lui, J., & Nierenhausen, E. (2014). Engaging vocational rehabilitation counselors in knowledge translation processes: A participatory action approach. . Rehabilitation Counselors & Educators Journal, 7(2), 6-16.
- Lui, J., Anderson, C. A., Matthews, P., Nierenhausen, E., & Schlegelmilch, A. (2014). Knowledge translation strategies to improve the resources for rehabilitation counselors to employ best practices in the delivery of vocational rehabilitation services.. Journal of Vocational Rehabilitation, 41, 137-145.

Presentations

Oral Presentation

- Matthews, P., Nierenhausen, E., Lui, J., & Anderson, C. A. (August, 2012). Knowledge Translation in Action: Supporting Evidence-Based Practices in Vocational Rehabilitation. National Rehabilitation Association Conference, Chicago, IL.